

CLIMATE CHANGE PROJECT

GAWDESY QUARTERLY REPORT MARCH 2010

Through door to door information and training through Village Development Committees, Women's and Youth's Self Help Groups, village people who have low awareness of the Climate change are now more aware. We were only able to enlighten those people who were at home at the time of our activities – those who were away at the time will be given information later. Owing to heavy rain in November and December there was some lack of actions on the climate change project but now efforts are now being taken to compensate for this.

Stimulated by our efforts, village people themselves came forward to have 400 saplings and 100 bamboo caskets which gave us great pleasure. Further, as a pleasant support to the project and with some degree of social change, 2000 coconut and 2000 areca nut saplings were issued as marriage gifts to wedding guests

The photographs below illustrate the effect on land and crops of the severe, unseasonal storms.
