

All our Christmas's will be strange this year, why not give a gift of food and hope to some that desperately need it. Support our Christmas appeal and help those who are much worse off than us by giving our friends in India a gift that will enable them to survive. We will let your designated friends know that their present has given succour to others but you are also thinking of them!

Life for tribal people living in the Nilgiri Hills can be hard with isolation, climate change, lack of healthy food, shortage of income, and health issues affecting the lives of the poorest and most vulnerable of families.

Covid has brought about additional hardships due to extended lockdowns; closure of businesses and the lay-off of seasonal labourers; shortage of food which has become hugely expensive; and lack of medical assistance.

Our colleagues from the ISLAND Trust have done a terrific job in reaching those villages that have been worst affected with food, medicines and other items which many Tamwed supporters have funded.

However, Covid will be causing problems well into the new year with no income for many families. Vital support to a family costs £5 for a week or £20 a month. Funds will enable our colleagues to buy nutritious food and other items and transport them to isolated villages where staff can offer medical and other support.
